STH100 Padbar NEW Extra high security padbar

The new STH100 has been designed to be used only with the new SS100CS padlock. When used together these two very high specification products achieve LPCB Level 4.

The padbar body is made from a special hardened cast material and the hardened staple rotates for extra security making it more resistant to attack.

The STH100 is easy to fit and offers more protection than a normal hasp and staple.

Features
